This case is before the Court for a preliminary hearing pursuant to Rule 32.1, Fed. R. Crim. P., to determine whether there is probable cause to hold the defendant for a revocation hearing. Based on the evidence presented at the hearing, the Court finds that there is no probable cause to believe that the defendant has violated conditions of his supervised release and, therefore, that he should not be held for a revocation hearing before the Court holding jurisdiction over this matter.

Based on the evidence presented at the hearing, the Court finds that the supervised releasee shall be released from federal custody immediately. IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the defendant be released from federal custody immediately.

SO ORDERED this 14th day of June, 2019.
